We take this opportunity to thank all those who put in their earnest efforts for publishing this book.

We do not claim this book that is prepared based on the first book of our family history which was published back in 1972, as complete and perfect. We have endeavored to include all the details received.

The editorial of the first edition

“Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations.” Psa. 90: 1

From the very time when I could remember, I had had the chance to attend the annual memory celebration of our forefather Kottayil Kunjcheria Tharakan. Those occasions were beneficial for remembering our great ancestor and to meet several members of the extended family. In these times when the rituals and opinions tend to change, this annual memory celebration may also be discarded. As new generations evolve, the personal relation and affection between the family members get attenuated. A family history record is essential for the future generations to grasp the relation between the family members.

It is almost impossible to record the history of those families who fail to maintain their history archives. About 30 years ago, a few of our family members had taken up this task. The then patriarch of this family, namely, Kottayil Puthenparampil Chackochan collected the family details from his relatives Chembumpuram Tharayil Thomachen of the Puthenpurayil branch, Athimoottil Eapen Mathen and his sister Kocheethamma and kept those details recorded. Patteripurackal Sri. P. C. Mathew and Kottayil Puthenparampil Sri. P. C. George prepared a manuscript based on those details. That manuscript was of the greatest help to write up this family history record. As per the suggestions of the family members who attended the annual memory celebration of 1969, a committee was organized for setting up a Kudumbayogam. The President of the committee was Patteripurackal Sri. P.C. Chacko, Vice-President Vallakalil Sri. Jacob Perumal, and the Secretary Akeril Puthenparampil Sri. Thomas P. Mathew. Two members each from each branch of the family were also included in the committee.

The concerted efforts of this committee resulted in organizing a get-together of the Kottayil family members from all over in India on 27 August 1969 at the residence of Vallakalil Sri. V .J. Ittycheria, B. A. L. T. Many entertainment programs were also presented on that get-together. Patteripurackal Sri. Joseph Chacko who was to preside over the Kudmbayogam could not attend, because of lack of health. Hence the Kudumbayogam was presided over by me. On my suggestion of publishing a family history record, the attending family members gladly accepted it and promised all help for it. I was entrusted with the task of preparing a detailed family history. Thus this herculean effort was started.

Although the details of the family member residing in the Veeyapuram – Mannar area were there in the manuscript, research had to be conducted on the ancient history of the family.

The subcommittee, led by Kaithaparampil Sri. K. C John, executed their duty excellently and thus helped me.

The annual get-together of the Kottayil family in 1971, at Pavukara Niranathepurackal, elected an executive committee and under leadership of Sri. P. I. Abraham, the Secretary of the said committee, new steps were taken for writing up a family history record. Although the efforts for this purpose had well begun in 1969, it took about three years to compile and synchronize the details about the family members far and near. All the details and pictures each of the family members provided are incorporated in this family history book. I thank one and all committee members who offered their whole-hearted support in this regard. I feel thankful to Vidwan Kadapra Ramanpillai, who provided the preface for this family history book.

On this occasion I thankfully remember the gracious help and support of Sri. Varkey Tharakan of Kuravilanagad Kottayil family. I do thank whole-heartedly the efforts of the Chitra Press authorities, who printed this edition.

We do not claim this book to be error-free and complete. There could be many mistakes and imperfections in it. The family members may pardon us for any unintentional mistakes that may have crept in.

I conclude this foreword, hoping that the future of the family will be safe in the hands of the present generation, expecting the upcoming generations to execute properly their duty as members of this great family and praying that all our family members be bestowed with abundant divine grace.

Pavukara,
September, 1972

The preface for the first edition.

When man turns perfect, the difference between man and God ceases to exist. Man turns more godlike, even god. Complete humaneness is so desirable, yet unattainable. Whether we attain this remote perfection or not, human life should be the sojourn to this perfection. We are in a limited-time journey both to the ultimate aim of perfection and to the cemetery, our ultimate place of rest. Auditing each stage of this journey is a welcome exercise for making our future more fruitful. It is a discipline to find out any mistakes that may have been committed and to refrain from repeating that mistake in the future. This habit of examining our personal past paves the way for progress in life. When such examination of the past is that of the family, it turns out to be the family history; that of the country is the history of the country. Whether the history is of a person or family or a country, the past is always the subject of the history.

Although the past is past, it is there with us in the present and will be in the future too. What all we have today are presented to us by the past. Life is leading it through the present to connect it creatively to the future. Such lives make a family or a country an accomplished one.

The possibilities of the family history are multifaceted. The most valuable asset of a man is his family. Be it a hut or a mansion, be in poverty or in affluence, the real joy of a family life we savor from our own family. And we learn the lessons of selfless service from our school that is our family. From the life in our family that is our primary school, we learn the openness our heart and readiness to serve and as we progress in them, we attain a level in which we can love the humanity as a whole. We again progress to view the flora and fauna around us as our part of the family.

When the members of a vast family come to know each other and realize that they all belong to a single great family and always care for the welfare of each other promotes a strong bond between all of them. Since they love each other, they will harmonize with each other and maintain a unity among all of them. Any grief of a member is felt by all others, it is resolved as a common issue of the family. Thus the burden of the grief is lessened immediately. As the members of the family care for each other, the family tends to progress. The record of history of the attainments of such a family will be helpful for the subsequent generations of learn and imitate and thus maintain the culture of that family high. That exactly is the purpose of a family history record.

Kottayil family is a great family progressing both in wealth and culture. It was established on the firm ground of spirituality. As we look back at its former history, such great personalities like venerable Mathai Kathanar, Bahanan Kathanar, Mathen Kathanar, Koruth Thoma Kathanar were the former patriarchs of the family. It is also a well-known fact that the great Apostle Saint Thomas had personally ordained their ancestors as priests. Now this family consists of around 700 members in its 150 families and branches. The Kottayil family commands a foremost position in education and also in agriculture. Many of the family members have attained higher education and high positions. All of the members of the Kottayil family lead a respectful and blessed life.

While working as a teacher in Veeyapuram-Paipad U.P. School for a long time, I had had the privilege to be familiar with several members of the family and to maintain a brotherly affection with them. I am keeping those relations afresh even now. This active relationship with them had prompted me to write this preface for this publication. I hereby gladly present this family history record for your reading, praying that this book may be instrumental for the coming generations to notice, learn and maintain the high and commendable tradition of this family. May they hold high the commendable ideals and interests of their great forefathers!

Vidwan Kadapra Ramanpillai,

Valanjavattom.

Editorial of the revised edition

Retired in 2001 from my official duty, I returned to my home at Melpadom for a peaceful life of rest. Soon the duty of publishing of this was entrusted to me. Although the work was started well, some unexpected snags delayed the work. Yet, the timely intervention and earnest efforts of the committee members like Akeril Jagi Jacob, Moonnalikal Thomas Mathew, the compiled data was transferred to computer and thus the printing work could be speeded up.

I extend my wholehearted thanks to the Kottayil Kudumbayogam and the Committee members for entrusting me with the work of publishing this book and providing timely and valuable help for successfully completing the challenging task. I am indebted to the family members who provided the necessary details and photographs, well in time, and to those who made helpful suggestions.

I thank the PAT Printers, Kadapra who did the printing of this book and M/s Bethel Enterprises who provided the layout, D. T. P. and cover design.

We had tried our level best to compile the details of about 375 families residing in various parts of the world. We have tried to collect and include as much details as possible; yet we do not claim total perfection.

Most of the younger generation of this family has not visited Melpadom, many of them do not use Malayalam. For the benefit of those, we have included herewith a concise family history in English. I hope that the Family Directory in English would help them maintain a warm communication with other members of this family.

I hope and pray that the publication of this Kottayil Family History record would help all the family members to uphold the values of the family and to maintain a mutual concern between them.

An excerpt as such from the family history book of the Pakalomattom Mahakudumbayogam published on 25th August 2005, showing that Kunjchako Tharakan, founder of the Kottayil family at Melpadom, was the brother of Iype Tharakan of the Alappat family at Kuravilangad is included in this book. A copy of the first page of the book containing the prayer (written in Syrian by Puthenveettil Bahanan Kathanar who was the vicar of the Niranom St. Thomas Church) and a translation thereof by Fr. P. V. Ninan, Kanneril are also included in this book.

Let us serve the society with earnestness and generosity in areas of our endeavor as shown by our ancestors. Let us try to hold fast to our tradition and simultaneously lead others in reformation. Thus let us glorify the name of our Lord.

Your humble brother,

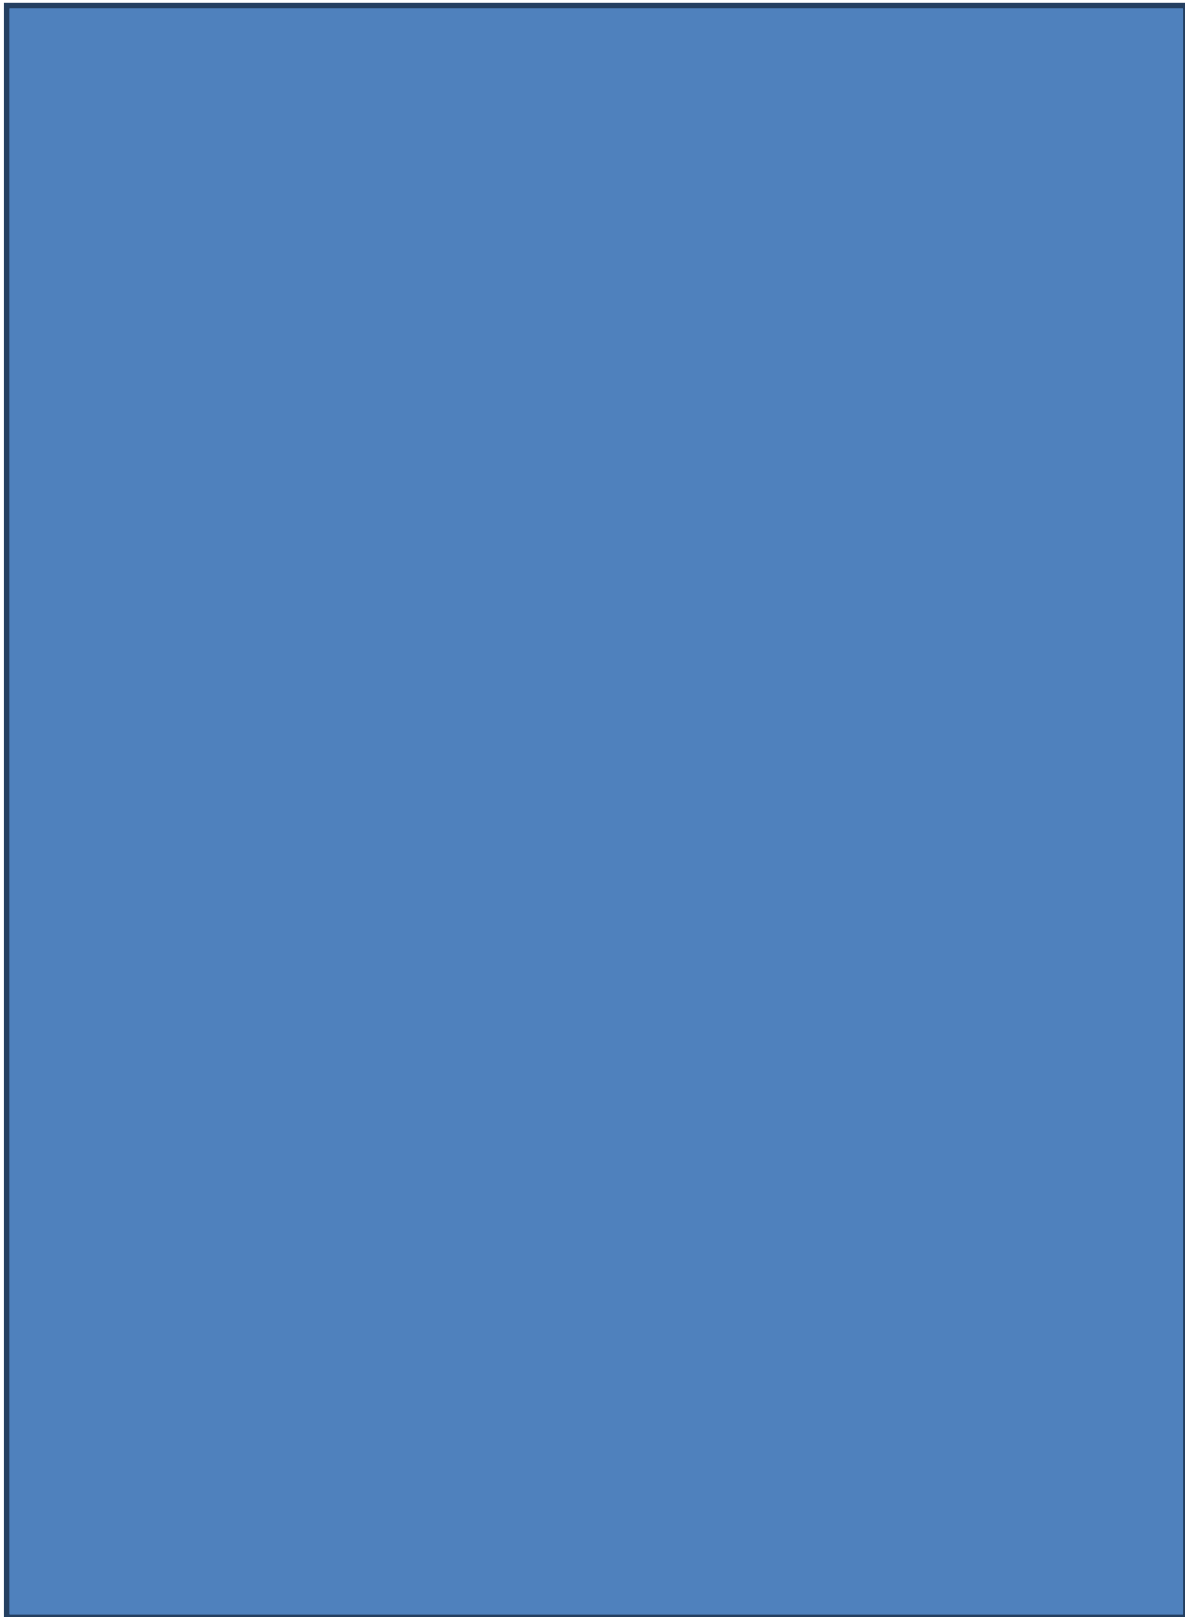

Melpadom,

The order of prayer of Monday in the Passion Week, given to us by God.

Our Lord, who was ordained for suffering, did bear his sufferings for us and thus freed us from the punishment for our sins. Refrain us from unholy desires and sorrows!

Prepare us to take up suffering in the Passion Week;

so that we may praise without ceasing you and your Holy Father and cause us to be glorified in a new and holy life.

Premion of the evening:

While you have not been for suffering in your piety, you had chosen to bear suffering in your humaneness for us...

Kottayil – Melpadom

Kunjchacko Tharakan is one among the brothers of Iype Tharakan of Alappat family at Kuravilangad. Kottayil property was part of his inheritance. In that property on the southern shore of the river Pampa at Melpadom in Veeyapuram village of the Karthikappally Taluk, he set up a house, holding the name Kottayil. He married a girl from Vazhayil family in Kunnamkari near Kidangara.

Kunjchacko Tharakan had 6 sons and 2 daughters. The youngest son Avira died young. The eldest daughter Achamma was sent in marriage to Puthenpurayil, Melpadom and the second daughter Mariyamma to Kanjipuzheth at Chengnnur. *Iruppootty*Tharakan, the eldest son of Kunjchacko Tharakan shifted to Kottayil Padinjarethil, the second son to Vallakalil at Pavukara, the third son Yohannachan to Puthenveettil, the fourth son Mathachan to Puthenveettil Kizhakethil, the fifth son Mathai Kathanar to Kottayil at Niranom and settled down. Since the son of Mathai Kathanar shifted to Kottayil, Melpadom, that house is also known as Niranathepurackal. As on date, the Kottayil Kudmbayogam consists of 150 families.

Priesthood is kept hereditary for the Kottayil family. The Mathai Kathanar settled down with his family, east to the Niranom Church. His youngest son Bahanan Kathanar was a Dayara priest (Celebate). He offered his first Holy Qurbana at the Niranom Church translating the Thaksa from Syriac to Malayalam. He died at an age of 38 and was buried inside the Niranom Church. Both Patteripurackal Mathan Kathanar and Kaithapampil Achan (Kouth Thoma Kathanar), the grandson of Puthenveettil Yohannachan held the position as Vicar of the Niranom Church. Kodumalayil Thonduparampil T. V. Philipose Cor Episcopa who had been the Secretary of the Sleetadasa Samootham and Kottayil K.G. Mathai Kassisa who was the Assistant Vicar of the Parumala Seminary Church also belong to the Kottayil family.

*Iruppootty*Tharakan had married Elachiyamma, the sister of Cheppat Bishop Mar Dionasius Chacko, the eldest son of Vallakalil Chacko and his eldest son Kochuchacko were the trustees of the Niranom Church.

The School that Kaithaparampil Achan had established in Malayalam Era 1054, on his property is the present M. T. L. P. School, Melpadom. This same family established the Melpadom St. Kuriakose Church on the banks of the Pampa River. Kottayil family members have established a Marthomite Church and also a Brothren Church. Kottayil family had piloted the development of the Mannar – Veeyapuram Road. Present Kerala Chief Minister Sri. Oommen Chandy and his grandfather Ex- MLC V. J. Oommen belong to the Vallakali branch of Kottayil family.

PREVIOUS HISTORY

Apostle St. Thomas had visited Kerala in 52 AD converted those who chose to believe in his gospel to Christianity and also had established Christian Churches. A few Nampoothiry families, residing near a temple at Paloor in the Ponnani Taluk of Kerala had turned Christians in that wake. Due to some unknown reasons, a few of them moved to Ettumanoor and tried to settle near a temple there. The residents there did not allow them to settle there.

Those people persuaded the Christian families to Kuravilangad, a place infamous as haunted by Yakshi, an evil spirit. Those people expected the Yakshi to annihilate the Christians. The families that chose to settle at Kuravilangad belonged to the famous Kalli, Kaliankal, Shankarapuri, Pakalomattom families.

Some of them had been ordained as Archdeacons. They did build the first Christian Church at Kuravilangad in 537 AD. It is generally believed that their establishment of the church and continuous prayers had eradicated the Yakshi from Kuravilangad.

It is found from several historical records that the Kottayil family evolved from Pakalomattom family of those pioneers at Kuravilangad. A family with the name Alappat had settled slightly away from Pakalomattom. A branch of the Alappat family had settled further away with the name Kottayil. Kunjchacko Tharakan of the Kottayil family who moved south-eastern shifted to Melpadom in Veeyapuram village of the Karthikappally Taluk on the southern bank of the Pampa River, accepting the family name as Kottayil. This incident was about 240 years ago, as we can calculate. Members of this family worshipped God joining the congregation of the Niranom Church.

The former family of Kunjchacko Tharakan belonged to the congregation of the great church in the name of Virgin Mary. The house of his wife is the Vazhayil family at Kunnankary near Kidangara, who had migrated from the Kalikavu family at Kuravilangad. Both these families are part of the Catholic community.

The sons and grandsons of Kunjchacko Tharakan have visited their kith and kin at Kuravilangad, during the three days' fasting and Perunnal at Kuravilangad Church. It is known from Patteripurackal Chackochan that the brother of his father had visited their ancestral home and the church at Kuravilangad.

A committee, led by Kaithaparampil Dr. K. C. John who had worked as a doctor for a long time at the Government Hospital there, visited Kuravilangad on 10th of August, 1969 so as to collect details of the family history. They visited the Pakalomattom (Alappat Kottayil) family about 2 kilometers west of the Kuravilangad Valiyapally. The head of the family there was 79 years old. His brother has been staying at the Kottayil family there. The ancestral family and the surrounding property had been sold out. It was informed that the family members who have been residing there had the position of Tharakan, and that the fact is recorded in the family history book written by Mattathil Achan.

There are 5 centuries old tombs, east of the M.C. Road and south to the Kuravingad Valiyapally. There are some inscriptions in the ancient Vattezhuthu letters of Malayalam on those tombs. It is generally believed that those are the tombs of the 5 Archdeacons ordained by Apostle St. Thomas. The plot of land that contains the tombs has recently been donated to the Bishop of Pala as per a registered document, by Varkey Tharakan who is the living patriarch of the family.

It can be elucidated that those 5 Archdeacons belonged to the Pakalomattom family, by the following reasons. In ancient times the tradition was to ordain a member in each generation of a designated family as priest. Mathai Kathanar, the fifth son of Kunjchacko Tharakan, was the Vicar of the Niranom Church. He might have been ordained a priest as per the prevailing tradition. The youngest son of Mathai Kathanar was a celibate Dayara priest. He was the first to translate the “Thaksa” from Syriac to Malayalam and to use it in the service at the St. Mary’s Church, Niranom. He died in his age of 38 and was buried inside the Niranom Church.

Mathai Kathanar settled down east to the Niranom Church so as to effectively manage the matters of the Niranom Church. That house is with the name Kottayil. His successors are living there now.

*Iruppooty*Tharakan, the eldest son of Kunjchacko Tharakan married Ilachiamma, the sister of the Anjilimoottil Methrachan (Cheppat Mar Dionysius).

Both Patteripurackal Mathan Kathanar and Kaithaparmpil Achan (Kouth Thoma Kathanar), the grandson of Puthenveettil Yohannachan held the position as Vicar of the Niranom Church. (The priest of this generation, namely, Kodumulaiyil Thonduparampil T. V. Philipose Cor Episcopa was the Secretary of the Sleebadasa Samootham and Kottayil K.G.Mathew Kassissa is the Assistant Vice of the Parumala Church.) Thus it can be seen that priesthood is hereditary and being carried on with the family through all generations.

Both Vallakalil Chacko (the elder son of Kunjchacko Tharakan) and his elder son Kochuchacko were the Trustees of the Niranom Church and held with them the key to the primary key of the Church.

The suit at the Alleppey District Court with Kochuchacko as the Plaintiff was successful and he could get back the Niranom Church and its properties for the Jacobite sect by getting the Court Verdict executed. He was the trustee of the Niranom Church and held the primary key till his death.

The Kottayil Family had marriage relations with many of the ancient and famous families in Central Travancore. Kunjchacko Tharakan settled in the Kottayil house on his beautiful plot of land on the southern banks of the river Pampa. He earned and acquired about one and a half mile long paddy fields and land plots on both sides of the Elampanam stream. While his earnings were divided among his sons, a Puncha paddy field with Survey no. 3473 in the Melpadom section of Veeyapuram village was set apart for meeting the expenses of conducting his annual memory of his death. It is known as the "Chatthakandam". Paddy cultivation in this paddy field is conducted every year by a family among the four branches on a rotation basis and that family is expected to make arrangements for the annual get-together in memory of the death of Kunjchacko Tharakan. In the previous years, memorial prayer was conducted every year on the (ME) Medom 18th at the Niranom Church. The annual memoriam is conducted every year without fail, although the date is changed to suit the convenience of participants. The family day celebration is also conducted on that day. Kunjchacko Tharakan had 6 sons and 2 daughters. The youngest son Avira died in his early years. Achamma, the eldest daughter of Kunjchacko Tharakan was sent in marriage to Puthenpurayil house at Melpadom and Mariyamma, the second daughter to Kanjipuzheth house at Chengannur.

Among the sons of Kunjchacko Tharakan, the eldest son Iruppootty Tharakan settled down in the house Kottayil Padinjarethil, Chacko, the second son in the Vallakalil house at Pavukara, Yohannan, the third son in Puthenveettil, Mathachan, the fourth son in the Puthenveettil Kizhakethil and Mathai Kathanar, the fifth son in the Kottayil house at Niranom. Since the son of Mathai Kathanar migrated to the Kottayil House at Melpadom from Niranom, that house is also known as Niranathepurackal. Their successors of them are:

- (1) Kottayil Padinjarethil branch
- (2) Vallakalil branch
- (3) Puthenveetil branch
- (4) Puthenveettil Kizhakethil branch
- (5) Kottayil Purackal branch.

As on date, this great family has 150 family units in India and abroad. They are of Orhodox, Marthoma, Brothren, Pentecostal, Catholic Christian communities.

Although now-a-days it may seem negligible, but what the Kottayil family members did for the country centuries ago are worth remembrance. Kaithaparampil Achan (Koruth Thoma Kathanar) established a Lower Primary School in his plot of land at Melpadom. It is still going on in with the name M.T.L.P School, Melpadom.

It was difficult for the residents of Melpadom to reach Niranom Valiyapally, their congregation, for worship, marriage and burial services. Due to the efforts of the Kottayil family, St. Kuriakose Church was established on the bank of river Pampa. Those of the family belonging to the Marthoma sect established a Marthoma church at Melpadom. One member of the Kottayil family established a Brothren Church also at Melpadom.

The members of the Kottayil family also played a leading role in the building of the Mannar - Veeyapuram road. Criminal cases were registered against some of the Kottayil family members in that effort. Those of the Kottayil family have suffered for the development of the country and for the sake of fellow countrymen.

Most of the members of the Kottayil family are farmers. There are many who are employed in different parts of India and abroad. By the Grace of God, in recent times, the educational and financial level of the family members have elevated substantially. The Kottayil family members are yet to progress in commerce and Industry.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE KOTTAYIL FAMILY AT MELPADOM

Melpadom is one of the few places in the world that was physically shaped by the early settlers of the place. It was originally a swampy water-logged land lying in between two prominent rivers of Kerala – The Achenkoil River and the Pampa River. These two rivers meet at the western tip of Melpadom to form one river which flows down to the sea 15 Kms. away. This triangular piece of land stretching westwards from Pavukara for about 4 Kms., till the confluence of the two rivers at Thuruthel is Melpadom. It is part of the Veeyapuram village under Karthikappally Taluk of Alapuzha District of Kerala. Melpadom also forms one end of Kuttanad, the rice bowl of Travancore. Over the years, its early settlers converted the swampy land into the “Punja Paddy Fields” and “Viruppu Paddy Fields”, suitable for rice cultivation. With time, they also raised the land along the Pampa River bank and built their houses.]

The history of settlers relating to the early settlers dates back more than two hundred and fifty years. There is evidence to suggest that the first person to settle on the banks of the Pampa River in Melpadom was Kunjchacko Tharakan. Towards the end of the eighteenth century, before the time the British displacing the Dutch as a political power in Cochin in 1795, a young man named Kunjchacko Tharakan arrived in Niranom. He was from the Kottayil family in Kuravilngad. He became a trader in agricultural commodities that were being sent to Alappuzha, which was a major seaport for trade with foreign countries.

In those days, the easiest, fastest and convenient mode of transport was the waterways, i.e., the rivers and canals leading to Alapuzha. On the look out for a place to settle down, he found an ideal place on the banks of River Pampa at Melpadom. He must have been a brave and adventurous man, as people at that time were afraid to be isolated by the banks of the river. People feared Crocodiles of which there were plenty in the river. Robbers travelling in swift canoes along the river were also prevalent. Kunjchacko Tharakan built his house near the present day ferry (Kadavu) which faces the St Thomas High School, Thevery, situated opposite side of the river. He became a member of the St. Mary's Syrian Church, Niranom. Slowly, more and more families settled down at Melpadom. Most of them were involved in rice cultivation and its related activities.

Kunjchacko Tharakan's wife was from the Vazhayil Veedu family from a place close to Kidangara called Kunnamkari. They had six sons and two daughters. The youngest son Avira died in his youth. The elder daughter Achamma was married into the Puthenpurayil family in Melpadom itself. The younger daughter Mariamma was married into the Kanjipuzhath family in Chengnnur.

Kunjchacko Tharakan's first son was *Iruppootty*Tharakan. He moved west of the original house and his house was known as Kottayil Padinjarethil. The second son Chacko moved further east and set up his house which is known as Vallakalil. The third son was Yohannan who started the Puthenveettil branch of the family. The site of his house is where the present day St Kuriakose Centenary Parish Hall is situated today. Mathechan was the fourth son. He married and set up his home east of his brother Yohanna's house and his house was known as Puthenveettil Kizhakethil. The fifth son Mathai Kathanar was a priest. He became the Vicar of the St. Mary's Syrian Church, Niranom. His house was known as Kottayil House at Niranom and was situated near the church. His descendants are still staying in Kottayil House at Niranom. One of Mathai Kathanar's house returned to Melpadom and lived in the place where the Kunjchacko Tharakan's house was. This house is now known as Kottayil Nirnathepurackal.

The descendants of Kunjchacko Tharakan spanning the 5th to 10th generation are still living in Melpadom. Today, out of the 376 families (descendants of Kunjchacko Tharakan) only about 50 families reside in Melpadom. The rest have moved to other parts of Kerala, India and other countries of the world.

The Kottayil family had a rich tradition of priesthood dating back many centuries. There were priests in Kottayil family even in Kuravilangad. There is a plot of land south of the St. Mary's Church, Kuravilangad on the east side of the M.C. Road, which has five tombs. These tombs are of the five priests belonging to the family and have inscriptions in the old script. The land was owned by the Kottayil family of Kuravilangad. About 50 years ago, the Kottayil family of Kuravilangad donated this plot of land to the Bishop of Pala, for its upkeep and maintenance.

The tradition of priesthood continued even after Kunjchacko Tharakan settled in Melpadom. Of his sons, the fifth son became a priest and was known as Mathai Kathanar and was one of the Vicars of St. Mary's Church, Niranom. Mathai Kathanar's youngest son Bahanan also became a priest. He is remembered specially for his translation of the "Thaksa" from Syriac to Malayalam and was the first to use it in the service at St. Mary's Church, Niranom. A book of prayers he wrote in the Syriac language survives to this day. The front page of this hand-written manuscript is reproduced in this book. He died at the age of 38 and was buried inside the then St. Mary's Church, Niranom.

In nearly every generation there was a priest in the Kottayil family. It is right and proper to mention their names. They are, (in chronological order) Patteripurackal Mathen Kathanar, Kaithaparampil Koruth Thoma Kathanar, and Puthenveetil Kizhakethil Geevarghese Kathanar. In more recent times, we remember Rev. Fr. K.G. Mathai of Niranathepurackal and Rt. Rev. Fr. T. V. Philipose Cor Episcopa of the Kodumulayil Thonduparampil branch.

At present, Rev. Fr. P.V. Ninan of Kottayil Kanneril family is a well-known priest of the Orthodox Syrian Church. The Golden Jubilee of his ordination as a priest was celebrated last year at St. Kuriakose Orthodox Syrian Church, Melpadom. Pr. Dr. Chacko Iype of the Akeril Thundathuvadakethil family is serving as the Central Pastor of the Indian Pentecostal Church at Aluva. Rev. Fr. George Varghese, also of the Kottayil Kanneril family is a prominent young priest serving the Jacobite Syrian Church. Pastor N.C. Zachariah of Niranathepurackal family is at present serving as Pastor of the Indian Pentecostal Church at Trivandrum.

The Kottayil family in Melpadom had the privilege of playing a major role in starting the first four churches in Melpadom. The Marthoma Church, Melpadom was started in 1903 on a piece of land donated by Puthenveetil John P. John (Puthenveetil Pappy). The St. Kuriakose Orthodox Church was established a year later, in 1904. The land for the church was donated by Kottayil Padinjarethil Iruppooty. The Brethren Church members met for worship in the house of Padinjarethil Mathai Kunju from 1907 till his death in 1924. They then met for worship at Puthenveetil Purackal Chacko's house. Puthenveetil Purackal Chacko donated the land for the Brethren Church Hall. Thundathivadakethil Iype was one of the founders of the Ceylon Pentecostal Church (now known as the Pentecostal Church) in Melpadom which was started in 1950.

The first school in Melpadom was started 125 years back in 1878, giving a head-start to education and proving to be a catalyst for change. This was started by Kaithaparampil Koruth Thoma Kathanar on his own land. The school was donated to the Marthoma Sabha thirty years later by his nephews. It is now known as Mat Thoma Lower Primary School and is situated in the Mar Thoma Church Compound, Melpadom.

It is interesting to note that Kunjchacko Tharakan had set aside a paddy field measuring about 80 cents (0.8 acres). This land was to be cultivated by his descendants and the proceeds from it to be used to conduct a "Chatham" or "Sraddhom" (memorial service) as per the Syrian Church traditions. We do not know the year of his demise. However, since his death, a memorial service has been conducted every year on 'Medam 18 (around May 1st), for nearly two hundred years. Even today, every year one of his descendants living in Melpadom take turns to cultivate this paddy field. He then conducts the memorial service in the St. Kuriakose Orthodox Church, Melpadom. This is followed by a breakfast fellowship for which all members of the family in Melpadom and nearby places are invited.

As we were gathering information needed for compiling this book, we realized that the majority of 376 families of the Melpadom Kottayil Family have moved out of Melpadom. We also felt that some younger members of the family may not know Malayalam and some might not have even seen Melpadom.

This article in English is a humble attempt to meet the needs of the younger members of the Kottayil family who are not familiar with Malayalam. We hope to bring out an English translation of this book in the near future. The directory accompanying this book is already in English and would be most helpful to all members to make new contacts and renew old relationships.

We wonder if we have missed any family member. If so, we do apologize and request you to inform us. We will correct and rectify the records for the future. This effort has been going on for many years and we have faithfully included all verifiable information that we have received .

Finally, we leave an open invitation to any of you planning to visit Melpadom in search of our roots. Please do contact us. We look forward to meeting you.
